EXPERIENCE

WAKA Action 8 News — Multimedia Journalist / Photog / Producer

May 2021- PRESENT

As a Multimedia Journalist for WAKA Action 8 News, I report breaking news, providing film, edits, and corresponding written stories for broadcast, online publication, and creating weekly episodes of Pets of the Week. As the Creative Services Producer, my technical and software focused role demands close collaboration with the Director to produce weekly episodes for Pay it Forward, as well as original content for local business highlights, anchor promotions, and our sales department.

BlackiNation, Inc. — Screenwriter / Director's Assistant

September 2019 - January 2020

For my role as a producer for BlackiNation, I completed script writing, editing, and subsequent production aid for original television episodes for the streaming platform, BlackiFlix. I was also responsible for upcoming series ideas and planning, as well as internal office requests and updates.

War Eagle Productions — Intern

May 2018 - August 2018

As a writer and producer for my university sports network, I was one of few individuals creating video content for the entire country. This award-winning program focused on both athletic and campus events, generating over 350 live events per year. I edited sporting events, primarily for the Auburn Tigers, as well as organized and cataloged previous University events.

EDUCATION

Auburn University

August 2015 - May 2019

Bachelor of Arts in Visual Media Studies
Minor in Theatre

PROJECTS

Shannon Paulk: Beyond the Headlines — Documentary

A self made documentary that was researched, edited, shot, and written completely by myself. The work put into this project took about 3 months to finish to tell the horrific story of the 2001 abduction and murder of a Prattville child.
